

The Basic Moves

When you assert your Paradigm over another Mage's, roll +Charm (-1 if Tethered). On a 10+, hold 3, or on a 7-9, hold 1. You can spend your hold 1 for 1 to:

- Have them mark experience (if an NPC, they comply with a reasonable request)
- Give them a +1 or -1 on their next roll (if an NPC, enhance or counter their next use of magic)
- Cause their current Discord to backlash

On a miss, they hold 1 against you, on the same terms.

When you impress a non-Mage magical being with a feat of magic in order to sway them, they will expect something in return. Roll +Charm (-1 if Tethered). On a 10+, they will do what you want if you promise to do it. On a 7-9 they may choose to instead:

- Give you something else they think you want or need
 - Make themselves scarce
 - Require you to fulfill the promise before they help

When you use a sleeper for your own ends, you must first present something they want. Roll +Charm. On a 10+, they will do what you want to the best of their abilities, but on a 7-9, they'll need proof that they'll get what they want, or they'll need it before they do anything for you.

When you help or hinder another PC, roll +Anchors. On a 10+ they get a +1 or -2 to their roll, your choice. On a 7-9 they still get the bonus or penalty, but you open yourself to cost, danger, or retribution. If they are doing magic that is Aligned to your Paradigm, you may instead have them treat the result as one category higher or lower.

When you sell a lie (to a person or to the Consensus), explain why they might believe it and roll +Wits. On a 10+, you've done it, with no-one the wiser. On a 7-9 you only mostly get away with it; the MC will offer you a hard bargain, worse outcome, or tough choice.

When you outfox, outpace, or outmaneuver to avoid a danger, name your gambit and roll +Grace. On a 10+, you pull it off, just as described. On a 7-9 choose 1:

- you overextend yourself in the process
 - you come away with something missing
 - someone else is drawn in

When you keep your head down to avoid attention, roll +Wits. On a 10+, you avoid notice, suspicion, or detection. On a 7-9, someone on the alert notices you. Choose one:

- Offer them something to ignore you
 - Back off without arousing further suspicion
 - Choose when and where you are noticed

When you do Rending magic and it affects a Lookout, gain 2 Discord, Backlash, and roll just +nothing (the Consensus doesn't care how smart or sexy you are).

On a 10+ choose up to 3, on a 7-9 choose exactly 2.

- You only gain 1 Discord
 - You don't Backlash
 - You don't cause collateral damage
 - You don't add a Restriction to your Paradigm

On a miss, choose one, but not "You don't Backlash."

When you do magic that is Aligned to your Paradigm and roll a 12+, take narrative control briefly to describe how it works above and beyond your expectations, and how that goes well for you.

When you enact sudden, violent, or unexpected change on the physical world, roll +Body. On a 10+, choose 3. On a 7-9, choose 2:

- You accomplish what you set out to do
 - You aren't injured in the process
 - You don't cause any collateral damage
 - You impress or dismay the target or an onlooker, and take +1 forward interacting with them

When you Backlash, you pushed reality too far and it pushed back. Any effects besides Harm will be difficult if not impossible to fix with magic, particularly the type of magic that caused it. Roll just +Discord, then reset Discord to 0.

On a 10+, reality breaks around you a little bit. Make a Status Track for this break, and the MC will make one to track if you become convinced it is real. Decide its form: pervasive hallucinations, a fantasy world overlaying the real one, or a pocket dimension you fall into. Choose an trait of your Paradigm (the name, Aligned, or an Opposed) to be explored by the break, and write a move to advance its Status Track.

On a 7-9, choose 2:

- You take 3 Harm
- You don't reset your Discord to 0
- A physical representation of your Discord manifests; the Consensus makes life noticeably inconvenient for you for the remainder of the session
- The Consensus manifests a being, an Enforcer of its will, to hunt you down, attack you, or otherwise warn you to change your behavior

On a miss, you shake it off with minimal lasting effects.

Extended Moves

When you fail a roll on a magical action and decide to put willpower behind changing it, the MC may ask you some questions. Answer them honestly. Re-roll the roll with +1 and choose 2:

- Sever your connection to an Anchor
 - Take -1 ongoing until you actually fail a magical roll
 - You Backlash

When you fail a roll with no magical influence, and decide to use magic to fix it, treat the result plus your stat as a 7, and choose 2:

- Take 2 harm, or 2 Discord
 - The magic is Rending
 - Lose a Playbook move until the end of session

When you suffer harm (even 0 harm), roll just +Harm suffered. On a 10+, the MC can choose 1:

- You're out of action: unconscious, trapped, incoherent, or panicked.
- Take the full Harm of the attack, before it was reduced by preparations. If you already took the full Harm of the attack, take +1 Harm.
- You are shaken. Take -1 ongoing until you can spend time connecting with an Anchor.

On a 7-9, the MC can choose 1:

- You lose your footing
- You lose your grip on whatever you're holding
- You let something or someone you're attending to fall into danger, or drop the ball on an obligation (especially important if it affects an Anchor)
- You are delayed, to deal with the effects of your injury
- Something you weren't prepared for happens

On a 6-, you take the Harm, but things don't get worse.

When you have some time and relative safety and you plan a ritual of magical power, describe the effect you are trying for. The MC may say more information or clarity is needed before the plan can be finalized. Once those needs are met, the MC will say which of these are needed to perform the ritual (it may be more than one):

- Extra time
- A certain object
- Help from an outside source

Then, write down the plan and hold 1.

When you have time, relatively safety, a place of power, and enough Mages, and you begin a ritual, have each Mage involved describe how they will contribute to the ritual within their Paradigm. If you spend a hold from Plan a Ritual, tell the MC the effect that will occur on a success, otherwise, the MC decides based on each Mage's contributions. Take into consideration each participant's Opposed, and the probability of Rending magic. Then, roll +Will. On a 10+, the ritual works as expected. On a 7-9 the MC will choose at least one.

- The ritual takes longer than expected
 - You draw unwanted attention
 - The ritual causes Discord
 - Everyone involved Backlashes
 - The ritual has greater than intended effects

When you lose an Anchor, roll +Anchors left. On a 10+, it may take some time, but you'll get through this. On a 7-9, choose 1:

- Another Anchor gets put in danger
- You do something you will regret. The MC tells you what. Note: This means it does not cause another Anchor to get put in danger
- You Backlash

On a miss: Lose another Anchor. The MC will tell you which one and how.

At the end of session: note any effects that lasted "until end of session," but should continue into the next. Then, ask yourselves these questions as a group. For every one you answer "yes" to, everyone marks experience.

- Did you show the lengths you were willing to go to in order to protect an Anchor?
 - Did you uncover a secret?
 - Did you learn something that puts your paradigms in perspective, or caused you to question them?
 - Did you expose the depths of your humanity, to yourself or to someone else?
 - Did you witness loss, selfishness, or pain born of magic?

When your Harm reaches Code N, roll +Body. On a 10+ you stabilize, and will need medical care, but you should live. On a 7-9, some serious magic is going to be needed to help you survive, plus the medical care. On a 6-, you're about to bite the dust. Make peace with your Paradigm.

If you have two or less Anchors, you have the option of removing an Anchor in order to stabilize. Describe how you spiritually cut yourself off from the Anchor, infusing yourself with magic in order to heal, but taking a huge step away from reality in doing so.

When one of your Anchors is put in danger, mark experience and either go and handle it, or lose them as an Anchor.

When you describe a magical effect within your Paradigm but beyond your normal abilities, the MC may tell you a resource you could consume to achieve the effect.
